Lawyers for Children America is a non-profit organization that recruits, trains and supports pro bono attorneys who represent abused and neglected children and youth. Our CLE seminar is taught by experienced child welfare attorneys, judges, other professionals, and former foster youth, and is designed to introduce lawyers to the child welfare system.

This training will address the legal system for abused and neglected children, the laws governing child dependency proceedings, and the ethical issues involved in representing children. The training also will address the representation of special populations of youth, including older foster children turning age eighteen, foster children who are victims of human trafficking, and foster children with disabilities.

There is no cost for this seminar for attorneys who accept a pro bono case from LFCA. Lunch and copies of seminar materials are generously sponsored by Bilzin Sumberg.

Many foster children in Miami need legal representation. Please join us.
